Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ)

1. TO QUALIFY FOR THE PROPOSITION 19 PARENT-CHILD EXCLUSION, DO I HAVE TO CLAIM A HOMEOWNERS' EXEMPTION AND RESIDE IN THE FAMILY HOME INHERITED FROM MY PARENTS OR GRANDPARENTS?

Yes. Proposition 19 requires the that you claim a homeowners' exemption or disabled veterans' exemption and make the family home your principal residence within one year of the transfer.

Homeowners' Exemption: assessor.lacounty.gov/homeowners-exemption/

Disabled Veterans' Exemption: assessor.lacounty.gov/disabled-veterans/

2. I AM OVER THE AGE OF 55. WHAT HAPPENS IF I BUY A NEW HOME THAT COSTS MORE THAN THE ORIGINAL HOME AND WANT TO TRANSFER MY BASE YEAR VALUE?

You may be eligible for the exclusion. However, the portion that is over the value of the original property will be reassessed at current market value. You may claim this exclusion up to three times.

3. MY HOME BURNED DOWN IN A GOVERNOR-PROCLAIMED DISASTER. I WAS ABLE TO TRANSFER MY BASE YEAR VALUE BY CLAIMING A DISASTER EXCLUSION (PROP. 50). MY NEW HOME ALSO GOT DAMAGED IN ANOTHER GOVERNOR-DECLARED DISASTER. WILL I BE ABLE TO TRANSFER MY BASE YEAR VALUE AGAIN?

Yes. If someone is unfortunate enough to have lost two homes to Governor-proclaimed disasters, they are able to transfer their base year value more than once.

Parent-Child Transfer Exclusion Calculation

Prop. 19 requires adjustment of the taxable value if the fair market value of the family home exceeds the sum of the taxable value plus $1,000,000.

If the fair market value of the family home is less than the sum of the taxable value plus $1,000,000, then the taxable value need not be adjusted.

If the fair market value of the family home is equal to or more than the sum of the taxable value plus $1 million, an amount equal to the fair market value of the family home upon purchase by, or transfer to, the transferee, minus the sum of the taxable value plus $1,000,000, is added to the taxable value.

EXAMPLE:

A single family residence has a taxable value of $425,738. Parent dies on March 1, 2021, and property is inherited by parent's only child. The residence was the principal residence of both parent and child. On parent's date of death, property has a fair market value of $1,750,000.

1. Calculate the sum of taxable value plus $1,000,000

$$\begin{array}{ccc} \boxed{$425,738} & + & \boxed{$1,000,000} = \boxed{$1,425,738} \\ \text{TAXABLE VALUE} & & \text{SUM} \end{array}$$

2. Determine whether the fair market value exceeds the sum of the taxable value plus $1,000,000

$$\boxed{$1,750,000} > \boxed{$1,425,738}$$

THE FAIR MARKET VALUE IS GREATER THAN THE SUM.

3. Calculate the difference

$$\begin{array}{ccc} \boxed{$1,750,000} & - & \boxed{$1,425,738} = \boxed{$324,262} \\ \text{FAIR MARKET VALUE} & & \text{SUM} \qquad \qquad \text{DIFFERENCE} \end{array}$$

4. Add difference to the taxable value

$$\begin{array}{ccc} \boxed{$324,262} & + & \boxed{$425,738} = \boxed{$750,000} \\ \text{DIFFERENCE} & & \text{TAXABLE VALUE} \qquad \qquad \text{NEW COMBINED BASE YEAR VALUE} \end{array}$$

Base Year Value Transfer Calculation

Under Prop. 19, whether or not the base year value of an original principal residence can be transferred to a replacement principal residence, without adjustment, depends on the fair market values of the two properties.

If the fair market value of the replacement principal residence does not exceed the fair market value of the original principal residence, the factored base year value of the original principal residence can be transferred to the replacement principal residence without adjustment.

However, if the fair market value of the replacement principal residence does exceed the fair market value of the original principal residence, the difference between the two market values will be added to the factored base year value of the original principal residence. The sum will be the new base year value of the replacement principal residence.

EXAMPLE:

Homeowner, who is over age 55, sells a principal residence on June 28, 2021 for a full cash value of $700,000. At the time of sale, the single-family residence has a factored base year value of $225,738. On July 22, 2021, a replacement principal residence is purchased for a full cash value of $800,000. Since the full cash value of the replacement principal residence exceeds the full cash value of the original principal residence, the difference in full cash values must be calculated and added to the transferred factored base year value.

1. Calculate the difference in full cash values

$800,000	-	$700,000	=	$100,000
REPLACEMENT PRINCIPAL RESIDENCE FULL CASH VALUE		ORIGINAL PRINCIPAL RESIDENCE FULL CASH VALUE		DIFFERENCE

2. Add difference to factored base year value

$225,738	+	$100,000	=	$325,738
